

4.7.1 The results of the fuel sampling and analysis are used directly in the calculations.

Example 1: The GCV from the most recent monthly sample of pipeline natural gas is used in the heat input rate calculations.

Example 2: For a process gas, hourly samples are taken of the sulfur content and GCV, and the hourly values are used to calculate the SO₂ emissions and unit heat input rate;