SQL Database

The SQL Database contains all data; 10-second raw data, one minute averages, and long term averages used for reporting. All data, except 10-second data, is stored indefinitely as long as storage space is available. While the database typically resides on the SpectraView® Prism Server, it can be located remotely, provided network access is adequate.